Freak Windstorm Causes Damage

Heavy rains and strong winds struck the county Saturday and high winds caused much damage just west of the Martin Chapel area.

Several homes escaped severe damage Saturday afternoon when a tornado-like wind dipped to the ground, roughly paralleling the paved road which runs almost due west in that area.

The wind apparently came from the southwest and moved to the northeast, almost in a west to east direction.

The wind lasted for about three minutes and struck at 5:00 p.m. on Saturday afternoon. Apparently the wind dipped down near the ground, then went back up, leaving a trail of destruction.

The path of the wind could be traced by the broken tree tops, then it swooped near the ground, flattened a field of tobacco, swept the tobacco barn of Clifton Harrell across the road, flattened a field of corn, then struck the home of Joe Dorch.

A large tree was broken off and several smaller trees uprooted, then the wind took its last and most powerful punch at the home of Joe Fridy. Here a large oak tree was broken off and pushed across the front of the house causing some damage. A large pine tree was also downed and numerous other trees blown over.

Across the road from Mr. Fridy's home several large trees were wrenched off close to the ground. Apparently no one was injured in the freak windstorm, but tobacco and corn in the area was severely damaged.

Teen-Agers Enter Labor Force In Calloway In More Numbers

(Special to the Ledger & Times) NEW YORK, July 13 — Teen-agers in Calloway County are entering the labor force at an increasing rate.

They reflect the rising number of young persons in the 14 to 19 age bracket. These are the ones who were born during the baby-boom years following World War 2.

Many of them, according to Government reports, are dropping out of school and going to work. Others are moving into the labor force immediately after finishing high school.

How to provide jobs for this flood of teen-agers is a prime problem.

Figures compiled by the Department of Commerce and the Department of Labor indicate just how big a problem it is.

In Calloway County, they show, the number of youngsters who will have reached the 14 to 19 age group in the five-year period ending 1965, will total 1,672.

On the basis of recent experience, 18.5 per cent of them, or 309, will be looking for full-time or part-time jobs before 1965.

In some areas of the country, an even greater proportion of teen-agers are cutting short their education, creating an acute employment situation. Such drop-outs are finding a minimum of job opportunities. It is pointed out.

In the United States as a whole, 23.5 per cent of the teen-age group are now to be found in the labor force by the time they reach 19. The ratio in the East South Central States is 29.4 per cent, and in the State of Kentucky, 34.0 per cent.

The problem will become even more severe in the subsequent five years, the reports show.

Between 1965 and 1970, the number of youngsters in Calloway County in the 14 to 19 bracket will amount to 1,562.

If they follow the current pattern and quit school at the same rate, 289 additional job openings will be needed for them within that period.

Nationally, according to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, the number of teen-agers in the labor market will jump from the 2 million counted in 1960 to 7.7 million in 1965 and to 8.4 million by 1970.

This prospect, he states, "sends up a warning signal that says to all Americans that the post-war population explosion is now making itself felt on the size and makeup of the labor force."

Amish Group Visit Murray In Search Of New Settlement

A group of Amish people from Ohio were in Murray this morning seeking an area where a group of the families could settle.

A spokesman for the group said that they now live in an area where heavy industry is cramping their farming activities. The group which came to Murray today were in a small bus and a car and have been investigating a number of areas to find a place which would be sufficiently large for the ten to eleven families involved.

The group here today seeks to find a place where the families can make a good living and can live a Christian life.

Primarily an agricultural people, the Amish are considered an asset to any community since they are hard working, honest and are of high moral character.

They normally live in large groups together. They abstain from the use of tobacco, alcohol and anything else which would tend to slow Christian growth.

The group here this morning does not believe in driving automobiles, however two friends from a group which does use automobiles have been driving them through this area in search of a good place in which to settle.

A lot of attention was directed to the visitors who wore simple clothing. The men in the group all wore beards and most had on flat brim black hats. The ladies in the group wore long dresses.

No More Mines Says Trio After Rescue

By EDWARD DI PIETRO PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three teenage boys miraculously rescued from an abandoned coal mine where they were lost for two days looked forward today to their release from a hospital and returned to their normal life.

Daniel O'Kain, 13, Bobby Abbott, 14, and Billy Burke, 13, have been in St. Clair Hospital since Saturday morning when a team of mine experts found them huddled in a small cave.

Doctors believe O'Kain and Abbott may be sent home today. But they awaited a study of X-rays and an examination of Burke's chest before deciding to release him.

The No. 2 mine of the Old Castle Shannon Coal Co. has been boarded up since it was closed in 1938. But the old pit still holds the lure of adventure for boys in the neighborhood.

"No more mines for us," said Abbott. "We had enough of that for the rest of our lives. From now on we're swimming, riding our bikes or playing ball."

The youngsters appear more interested in making plans for the summer than they do in discussing their miraculous rescue.

Mrs. Abbott told her son: "There must have been a golden angel on each of your shoulders to save you from that mine."

Bobby and Danny may be released from the hospital today. But Billy will be detained until an X-ray study is made of his chest. He complained of pains after stumbling in the gas-filled mine.

The boys had been in the No. 2 mine of the old Castle Shannon Coal Co. twice before and thought they were familiar with the labyrinth.

"We had a map of the main tunnel," Bobby said. "We felt sure we knew our way around."

J. A. Blackman, deputy state secretary of mines, said the open entrance to the mine will be walled up with cement and filled in by a bulldozer.

A team of mine rescue experts, refreshed after a daylong rest following an ordeal which began Thursday night and ended at 5 p.m., Saturday, were still baffled by the discovery.

Thomas J. McDonald, supervisor of the Pittsburgh office of the Bureau of Mines and his aides, Samuel Cortis, Everett Turner, Jim Hutchens and Jennings Bredon showed the effects of their grueling tasks.

Morton Dark Horse Says Top GOP Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two prominent Republicans found occasion Sunday to mention Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky as a possible dark-horse candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

Morton followed political custom by lightly scoffing at the suggestion.

U.S. Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr., of Ohio, on a national television program (Meet The Press) mentioned Morton as a man who perhaps best personified the Republican party tradition in national affairs.

Taft made the statement in reply to a question about potential Republican candidates, but did not specifically endorse Morton as his own choice.

Morton, appearing on a television show with Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., was asked by Scott if he had thought about the nomination.

Not Seeking Anything

Morton said, "I was asked to risk, and put it before the Assembly. I replied, 'Just about anything.' I'm certainly not seeking anything."

The Kentucky senator said he had just been re-elected to a six-year term in the Senate and was looking forward to serving there.

Morton also discussed Gov. Bert Combs' recent executive order banning racial discrimination in public places, agreeing with the governor's objective but criticizing his method.

The senator said he had been governor he would have placed the issue before the General Assembly, then in special session, instead of issuing an executive order.

He tempered the criticism somewhat by saying, "I accept the governor's statement that he feared this would clutter up the important session."

Would Have Risked It

But he went on to say that even so, "I think I would have taken the risk, and put it before the Assembly. We all share the concern over racial bias and want to see it done away with but I think it is far better to act through the people's branch of the government — which I consider the legislature to be."

Morton said that in a recent statement the governor himself seemed to be having second thoughts about the order and in fact, "appeared to be doing a little winking."

Combs, in a statement a week ago, limited the effect of his order to those areas in which the national administration also is seeking to eliminate discrimination.

The Kentucky senator said that while everyone would like to see the issue kept out of partisan politics, the fact that it has become the predominant matter of interest in the country would make it impossible to keep it out of political discussion.

Meets With Top U.S. And British Officials; Jovial

By HENRY SHAPIRO United Press International

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, in a jovial, wisecracking mood, met for 3½ hours today with high U.S. and British negotiators the opening of a Kremlin conference that could break the East-West deadlock on a nuclear test ban.

U.S. chief negotiator W. Averell Harriman and British Minister of Science Lord Hallam, drove after the meeting to the U.S. Embassy where they presumably compared notes on the talks.

There was no immediate comment from either Western delegation.

Nor was it disclosed when the next meeting would take place in the talks which are expected to last about 10 days.

But Khrushchev's surprise move in heading the Soviet delegation at the opening of the negotiations raised Western hopes that some form of agreement — perhaps an accord for a limited test ban — might emerge from the crucial conference.

Khrushchev, in opening the three-party conference this afternoon, enthusiastically pumped the hands of presidential envoy Harriman and Lord Hallam and remarked: "Where do we begin? Perhaps we should begin by signing an agreement first."

In a bantering aside, the Soviet leader turned to Harriman and said: "You did right when you kicked the British out of America."

Khrushchev's presence surprised Khrushchev, in a surprise move, was leading the Soviet side in the Kremlin discussions but it was not known whether he would attend the entire series of meetings.

The Soviet leader's decision to take a personal hand in the talks was a key reason for optimism among diplomats in Moscow that a breakthrough may be in the offing after many months of deadlock in test ban negotiations.

Khrushchev was joking and appeared to be in good spirits when he met earlier today with Lord Hallam.

Diplomats were optimistic the talks would result in at least a partial test ban that would cover nuclear blasts in the atmosphere, outer space and underwater.

Both Western negotiators and Valerian A. Zorin, deputy foreign minister and a Khrushchev aide for nuclear matters, expressed the hope that the conference would lay the groundwork for a test ban treaty.

East and West have been deadlocked for many months on the testing issue.

Joked With Hallam

Buddy Mack Boyd's minister of Sheriff Woodrow Rickman made several arrests over the weekend and charges have been placed against Jackie Boyd, Kenneth Story and Ray Junior Story.

Affidavits indicate an involved story beginning on July 12 and apparently continuing through the weekend until this morning about 2:00 o'clock according to Sheriff Rickman.

Buddy Mack Boyd made an affidavit charging that on July 12 he was at the Martin Oil Company on Main Street when he heard a commotion. He said he found Kenneth Story and Junior Story beating and kicking his brother Jackie Boyd. He went to his aid, he alleged and pulled one of the boys off of Jackie. Jackie was almost out and Junior Story kicked him again and also kicked him. Buddy Mack Boyd's testimony charged.

Kenneth Story and Ray Junior Story have been charged with assault and battery and placed under bond of $500.00.

On July 14 Jackie Boyd was charged with "throwing into an occupied vehicle." He was placed under $750 bond on this charge. Ira Lee Story made an affidavit charging that Boyd struck his car with a chain on the night of July 14 as he stopped for a red light at Third and Main. He had to duck to keep from being hit, he alleged. Someone else got out of the Buick car and threw a plank at the back of his car he also charged.

Junior Story was placed under a $500 peace bond also as was Jackie Boyd.

On July 13 Boyd was charged with "contributing to the delinquency of a minor" by Mrs. Elaine James. He was also charged with breach of the peace when Mrs. James charged he fired a gun in front of her.

science, held a courtesy meeting with Khrushchev before the formal talks to get acquainted. Khrushchev joked over Hallam's mistake in confusing Zorin with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko Sunday.

Gromyko, also present for the courtesy meeting, was all smiles.

Diplomats expected Khrushchev to sit in at the opening sessions of the negotiations, then turn over the job to a subordinate. But his presence added to other signs that have made observers here optimistic that East and West can reach their first major agreement since the Austrian state treaty of 1955. They included:

—Russia's growing split with Communist China and its apparent determination to put Khrushchev's "peaceful coexistence" policy ahead of all other considerations; including the unity of the Communist camp.

Called For Ban

—Khrushchev's statement in East Berlin earlier this month calling for a partial test ban.

—Western willingness to settle for a limited ban if the Soviets will not agree to a comprehensive one.

Harriman made it clear on his arrival Sunday that the United States would like to end all testing, if agreement can be reached on inspection systems.

"We have come with the instruction to do everything for the conclusion of a comprehensive ban on nuclear tests with the proper safeguards," he said.

"But, if we cannot get a concrete test ban, we have prepared to agree on a partial test ban which would be a first step in the negotiation of a complete treaty."

Best Chances

Khrushchev's East Berlin speech and Western statements have indicated that the best chances for agreement now are on a ban of all tests in the atmosphere, outer space, and under water. These can be detected by each nation without the need for on-site inspectors or devices. If any power violates such a ban, the others would immediately know it.

Dodgers Open Up Huge Lead In National League Flag Race

The Los Angeles Dodgers are opening up such a huge lead that they may be able to let the New York Mets play out the last month of the schedule for them.

It's been almost a decade—1955, to be exact—since any National League team held a 6½-game first-place lead at this stage of the race and, lest it be forgotten, that was the year in which the Dodgers gave Brooklyn its one and only world championship.

Apparently determined to avoid a repetition of the collapse that cost them the 1962 pennant, the Dodgers increased their 1963 lead to 6½ games Sunday when they beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, in a game shortened to six innings by rain. The victory was their 12th in their last 13 games.

Johnny Podres continued the excellent pitching which has kept the Dodger drive with a seven-inning shutout, his eighth victory against six losses. Dodger pitchers have given up only eight runs in the seven-game winning streak and have allowed two runs or less in 12 of their last 18 games.

McLish Was Loser

Mauri Wills' triple and Jim Gilliam's sacrifice fly gave the Dodgers a run in the first inning and they added two more off loser Cal McLish in the fourth with the help of Ruben Amaro's error, plus singles by John Roseboro and Willie Davis.

Home runs by Johnny Callison and Amaro produced the Phillies' runs. The Chicago Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-3, after a 10-3 loss, the Milwaukee Braves won, 7-6, after losing to the Cincinnati Reds, 5-3, and the Houston Astros beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, after a 6-3 victory. The Detroit-Washington twinball was rained out.

The Cardinals unleashed a 16-hit attack, featuring homers by Ken Boyer and Bill White, to beat the Cubs behind the eight-hit pitching of Ray Sadecki in their opener. Ex-Redbirds Larry Jackson and Andy McDaniel combined in a nine-inning nightcap, however, during which Lou Brock, Ron Santo and Ernie Banks homered for the Cubs.

Banks' 32nd homer of his career placed him seventh among the NL's all-time homer kings.

Reds, Braves Split

Vada Pinson had three hits in each game as the Reds and Braves split their doubleheader. He and Marty Keough homered in the first game to help John Tostouris win his fifth game of the season and deal Bob Shaw his seventh set-back.

Pinson also had two singles and a double in the nightcap but they weren't enough to prevent Joey Jay from suffering his 13th loss.

Bit blow in the nightcap for the Braves was Joe Torre's two-run wind-blown double in the first inning.

Al Spangler's leadoff homer and John Bateman's three-run triple sparked the Colts to a seven-run first inning and Hal Skinner Brown took it from there, with a nine-batter that earned him his third win of the year. Galen Cisco suffered his seventh loss against four wins.

The second games in New York and Philadelphia and San Francisco's scheduled double header in Pittsburgh were rained out.

The Jackson, Tenn. American Legion baseball team, sporting a fancy 32-4 record and the only team to defeat Murray this season, ran into more opposition than they could take at Holland Stadium, Friday night. The first seven-inning game went into extra innings before Jackson was able to slip the winning run across in the ninth for a final score of 7-6. In the bottom half of the seventh inning of the second game with the score tied 5-5, the bases-loaded with Murray runners, and no one out, Manager Young pulled the Jackson team off the field and refused to continue the game, which was then forfeited to Murray. Several of the Jackson players apologized to Murray-team members for this unsportsmanlike conduct of the Jackson manager.

A crowd estimated at 500 and the largest in recent years was on hand to see Manager Lube Vea's exciting 1963 team wind up their pre-tournament season. They received their money's worth.

In the first game, alert base running by Jackson and a Murray lapse plated the winning run. With runners on first and third, the tall runner got into an intentional foul box and the put-out was not in time to prevent a score. Holmesley, who came on in relief after Murray had tied the score in the sixth, received credit for the victory. Gibbs, who went the route for Murray, had more than usual trouble with control. The Murray hitting attack was led by Rick Tidwell with a home run and a single. Walter Blackburn had two singles. For Jackson, Morgan had two singles.

In the second game, Murray's Boyd also developed control trouble in the sixth inning and blew a 4-2 lead, as Jackson went ahead 5-4 and set the stage for the Murray explosion in the seventh. Leading off in the bottom of the seventh, Blackburn batted a double to deep right center. Roger Fields then laid down a fine bunt to advance Blackburn to third and was safe at first when Holmesley pitched, muffed the play. Holmesley relieved Hoskins, and loaded the bases by walking Danny Wright, who had homered in the first inning. With the squeeze-on, Blackburn scored to tie the game as Callison, Jackson catcher, moved up on the plate, interfered with the batter, Joe David Smith, and the pitch went wild, placing Smith on first and again loading the bases with none out. At this point, although the interference was clearly evident, Holmesley and Young protested vehemently and at length. On refusal to heed the umpire's warning, Holmesley was ejected from the game, and Young refused to continue.

Boyd went the route for Murray, giving up seven hits, including two each by Gilchrist and Medlin. Murray's nine hit attack was led by Wright with a homer and a double. Blackburn had a single to go with his seventh inning double, and Bob Koch had two singles. Jimmy Lamb had a two-run single in the third inning to put Murray in the lead.

MISS PADUCAH CROWNED

PADUCAH, Ky. (UP) — Miss Kathryn Bowland, 18, a student at Murray State College, has been crowned Miss Paducah of 1963 and will represent this city in the Miss Kentucky pageant at Lexington next month.

Jackson Works For Victory Here

The Jackson, Tenn. American Legion baseball team, sporting a fancy 32-4 record and the only team to defeat Murray this season, ran into more opposition than they could take at Holland Stadium, Friday night.

The first seven-inning game went into extra innings before Jackson was able to slip the winning run across in the ninth for a final score of 7-6. In the bottom half of the seventh inning of the second game with the score tied 5-5, the bases-loaded with Murray runners, and no one out, Manager Young pulled the Jackson team off the field and refused to continue the game, which was then forfeited to Murray. Several of the Jackson players apologized to Murray-team members for this unsportsmanlike conduct of the Jackson manager.

A crowd estimated at 500 and the largest in recent years was on hand to see Manager Lube Vea's exciting 1963 team wind up their pre-tournament season. They received their money's worth.

In the first game, alert base running by Jackson and a Murray lapse plated the winning run. With runners on first and third, the tall runner got into an intentional foul box and the put-out was not in time to prevent a score. Holmesley, who came on in relief after Murray had tied the score in the sixth, received credit for the victory. Gibbs, who went the route for Murray, had more than usual trouble with control. The Murray hitting attack was led by Rick Tidwell with a home run and a single. Walter Blackburn had two singles. For Jackson, Morgan had two singles.

In the second game, Murray's Boyd also developed control trouble in the sixth inning and blew a 4-2 lead, as Jackson went ahead 5-4 and set the stage for the Murray explosion in the seventh. Leading off in the bottom of the seventh, Blackburn batted a double to deep right center. Roger Fields then laid down a fine bunt to advance Blackburn to third and was safe at first when Holmesley pitched, muffed the play. Holmesley relieved Hoskins, and loaded the bases by walking Danny Wright, who had homered in the first inning. With the squeeze-on, Blackburn scored to tie the game as Callison, Jackson catcher, moved up on the plate, interfered with the batter, Joe David Smith, and the pitch went wild, placing Smith on first and again loading the bases with none out. At this point, although the interference was clearly evident, Holmesley and Young protested vehemently and at length. On refusal to heed the umpire's warning, Holmesley was ejected from the game, and Young refused to continue.

Boyd went the route for Murray, giving up seven hits, including two each by Gilchrist and Medlin. Murray's nine hit attack was led by Wright with a homer and a double. Blackburn had a single to go with his seventh inning double, and Bob Koch had two singles. Jimmy Lamb had a two-run single in the third inning to put Murray in the lead.

Ralph Houk's Grammer May Not Be So Good But His Logic Is; Yanks Do Well Without Pair

When Mickey Mantle suffered a broken bone in his left foot June 5, manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees insisted "we're not going to lay down and die."

He uttered virtually the same words when Roger Maris, the other half of the Yankees' dreaded "M & M" combo, was knocked out of action with a sore back nine days ago.

Houk's grammar may have been faulty but not his logic.

Mantle is back with the club but it may be a few more days before Houk writes his name on the lineup card. Yet during his absence the Yankees have won 27 of 41 games. With both Mantle and Maris missing during the past week, Houk's men have won five of seven.

So who's dying?

The Yankees increased their first place bulge in the American League to 6½ games Sunday by taking a pair from the Kansas City Athletics, 11-6 and 5-0.

Tied For Second

The Boston Red Sox and the Chicago White Sox remained in a virtual tie for second by splitting twinbills. The Red Sox blanked the Los Angeles Angels, 5-0, after suffering a 10-8 setback and the White Sox pulled out a 3-2 victory after losing to the Baltimore Orioles, 6-3. The Minnesota Twins swept their doubleheader with the Cleveland Indians, 5-3 and 8-2, and the Detroit at Washington twinbill was rained out.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, in a game shortened to six innings by rain; the Chicago Cubs beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-3, after a 10-3 loss; the Milwaukee Braves won 7-6, after losing to the Cincinnati Reds, 5-3, and the Houston Astros handed the New York Mets their 15th straight loss, 8-1. The San Francisco at Pittsburgh doubleheader was rained out.

John Blanchard and Hector Lopez, filling in admirably for the "M & M" boys, homered in the first game at Kansas City to help the Yankees wipe out a 4-0 deficit.

At Downing, who pitched a four-hit shutout, coasted to victory in the nightcap as Tom Tresh hit a pair of solo homers and Elston Howard knocked in three runs with a single, a double and a homer.

Hurled Four-Hitter

Chet Nichols, with ninth-inning relief help from Dick Radatz, hurled a four-hitter for the Red Sox in picking up his first victory of the season. In the opener, the Angels converted seven walks into runs to offset a grand slam homer by Lou Clinton and a two-run blast by Carl Yastrzemski.

The White Sox earned a split against Baltimore when Nellie Fox singled home 400 runs with two outs in the ninth inning of the nightcap. The Orioles won the opener by routing Ray Herbert with a four-run burst in the third inning. Mike McCormick limited the White Sox to six hits before giving way to Stu Miller in the eighth.

The Twins scored 11 runs in five homers in sweeping the Indians. Home runs by Earl Batley, Zola Versalles and Vic Power accounted for all of Minnesota's runs in the opener. Don Mincher greeted Barry Latman with a grand-slammer in the first inning of the nightcap and Harmon Killebrew connected for his 20th homer with one abroad in the sixth.

SEARCH ENDED—This is Welby Lee, 50, who spent 19 years searching for the hit-run driver whose auto killed his father near Moss, Tenn. He thinks he's got his man. Grover Jones, 54, found in Indianapolis, Ind.

Clark-Swann Vows Read

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM DONALD SWANN

Miss Annette Clark became the bride of William Donald Swann in a wedding solemnized Sunday, June 16, at two o'clock in the afternoon. The double ring ceremony was performed at Duncan Memorial Chapel near Louisville by the Rev. Fred Moffatt, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Shelbyville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Clark of Shelbyville. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ewing G. Swann of Murray. The vows were exchanged before an altar banked with ferns and palms. In the center was a floral arrangement of gladioli and California jonquils. The pews were decorated with sprays of greenery and gladioli, caught with white satin bows. The scene was softly lighted by white cathedral tapers in antique candelabra.

Mrs. Allan Purcell, vocalist, and Miss Frances Smith, organist, both of Simpsonville, presented a program of nuptial music.

her father, wore a bridal gown of white satin peau de sole with short fitted sleeves and wide neckline. The fitted princess lines were accented by tiny covered buttons fastening the back. The floor length mantilla veil of reembodyered Alencon lace complimented the simplicity of the gown.

She carried a cascade style bouquet of gardenias graced by lilies of the valley and sprays of ivy. Miss Patricia Clark, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Mrs. W. R. Hourigan, sister of the groom, of Bowling Green was the matron of honor.

The bridesmaids were Miss Glenda Jones and Miss Camilla Braine of Murray and Miss Marcia Ony-becker of Benlign.

The honor attendants wore floor length gowns of silk organza over taffeta in ice green. They wore miniature pillboxes of the same color to which birdcage veils were caught ending in floating panels. Their flowers were cascade bouquets of white fujii chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids wore dresses identical to the honor attendants. Their headpieces were matching circlets and their flowers were large natural daisies in cascade bouquets.

Ronald Talent of Murray served as best man. Groomsmen were Dr. W. R. Hourigan of Bowling Green, brother-in-law of the groom; C. W. Jones of Murray, uncle of the groom; Joe Vey of Boston, Mass.; Marvin Green of Detroit, Mich.; and Walter Retko of Detroit, Mich.

The groom, his attendants, and the fathers wore daytime formal attire. Mrs. Clark selected for her daughter's wedding a sheath dress and jacket ensemble in beige shantung. Her hat accented her attire and caught the color scheme of the wedding with floral-shades predominantly green. Her flowers were cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Swann, mother of the groom, wore a light blue organza sheath over taffeta which was highlighted with dyed to match accessories and a hat of blue straw. Her flowers were also cymbidium orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Whitehouse, grandparents of the bride, at Shelbyville.

Mrs. George Frank Smith registered the guests as they arrived. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Jay R. Johnson of North Vernon, Ind.; Mrs. Fred Moffatt, wife of the pastor, and Mrs. Purcell Lee of Shelbyville.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip through Virginia to the coast. For traveling the bride chose a light blue suit of caglene with bone colored accessories. They are now residing at 711 Olive Street, Murray.

DEAR MOTHER: "Appearances" ARE important. They shape a person's reputation—and a girl has only one reputation. Your daughter is "in love" with a very, selfish man, and you may quote me.

DEAR ABBY: Some very close friends of mine have told me that in the state of Illinois, if you are pregnant, you can get married without your parents' consent, even if you are under age. Is this true?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: If a girl is under age, no matter in WHAT state she's in, she needs her parents' consent to marry.
